Miguel is an attorney in the Data Privacy, Cybersecurity & Technology practice. His practice focuses on advising clients on a wide array of matters related to cybersecurity, data privacy, and technology transactions. He counsels clients on compliance with state, federal and international privacy laws and assists clients with establishing data privacy and information security programs.

Prior to attending law school, Miguel worked as a data analyst at a Milwaukee-based SaaS company, experience that informs his practical, technology-forward approach to advising clients. Beyond the tech sector, he spent a year working abroad in more than a dozen countries across Southeast Asia, Southern Africa, and Central and South America. In that role, he supported a variety of non-profit projects and coordinated international travel and logistics for a team of 40 individuals.
