Aaron P. McCann is an associate attorney in Godfrey & Kahn, S.C.'s Green Bay office and a member of the firm's Labor & Employment Practice Group. Aaron's practice is focused on employment litigation and defending employers' interests in disputes before federal and state courts and administrative agencies. Aaron also regularly counsels employers through the wide array of legal issues that arise during an employment relationship, including issues relating to recruitment and hiring, compensation practices, internal disciplinary investigations, employer policies, leave and workplace accommodations, and drafting employment, non-compete and separation agreements.

Aaron is a graduate of Marquette University Law School, where he was a member of the National Moot Court Competition team, a student intern for the Marquette Legal Initiative for Nonprofit Corporations (M-LINC), and served as a Judicial Intern for Justice N. Patrick Crooks, Wisconsin Supreme Court. Aaron received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Prior to attending law school, Aaron served as Deputy Director of Wisconsin Governor James E. Doyle's Washington, D.C. office.
